

Finding Success with T&S:

Faculty Student Association at Stony Brook University

At Stony Brook University, a New York public university with an enrollment of more than 26,000, keeping foodservice facilities running smoothly is a critical priority.

The university operates dining and retail facilities that total in excess of 300,000 square feet, ranging from convenient grab-and-go retail locations to full-service operations serving breakfast, lunch, dinner and late-night meals. These facilities use T&S Brass plumbing fixtures for reliable, efficient operation.

Smooth operator

The university considers a number of factors before installing any piece of equipment, including overall durability, ease of repair and maintenance, availability of parts, and a sleek yet simple design.

T&S products were selected to satisfy those needs.

T&S faucets and fixtures have resulted in reduced downtime, less water waste, and simpler maintenance and repairs over previously installed fixtures. Durable components prevent breakage, and the simple yet functional design is easy to work with when wearable parts are ready to be replaced.
